

DigitalHub

ADHD-friendly tools that work with your brain.

Clear, low-friction, and designed so starting is easier than avoiding.

The Problem with “Perfect” Planners

The Activation Curve

Designing Against Overwhelm

One Next Step

Every page must answer one question: What do I do next? No walls of options.

Plain Language

Instructions utilize short sentences and clear directives.

Calm Visuals

High contrast, calming colors, and strictly no visual noise.

Start Small

Micro-focused pages designed so you can actually finish them today.

Built for the ADHD Brain in Practice

Low-friction layout requires zero complex setup.

Dopamine-friendly habit grid for immediate visual reward.

Plain language prevents cognitive overload.

A Fundamentally Different System

	Traditional Tools	DigitalHub
Setup	40-step complex configurations.	Low-friction, start-today pages.
Resilience	Abandoned as soon as energy drops.	Systems designed to survive low-energy days.
Household Dynamics	High-shame, nagging structures.	Visual, low-shame routines that actually get used.

For the Individual: Surviving Low-Energy Days

Built for people who want systems that survive, not another perfect planner they abandon.

Mindful Morning Reset Journal

$9.99
